Exercise 1: Write an email to your friend telling them about your plans for the upcoming weekend. Include details about where you will be going, what activities you will be doing, and why you are excited about this plan.

Sample response:

Dear [Friend's Name],

I hope you are well.

I am writing to tell you about my plans for next weekend. I am excited because I am finally going to visit the theme park that I wanted to visit so much.

I plan to spend the whole day there and enjoy the exciting attractions it has to offer.

In addition, I will meet some friends and together we will have a small picnic to share and laugh. It's going to be an amazing day and I can't wait for Saturday!

I hope you also have exciting plans for the weekend. See you soon!

*A hug,
[Your name]*

Exercise 2: Imagine that you have attended a concert of your favorite band. Write about your personal experience in the event. Write to share this with people at an online forum. Describe the atmosphere of the event, the band's performance, and how you felt during the show.

Sample response:

My experience at the Live Star Band Concert

Last Friday, I had the incredible opportunity to attend the concert of my favorite band at the local stadium. From the moment the band took the stage, the energy in the venue was palpable. The audience was excited and eager to hear the hits we love so much.

The band's performance was simply impressive. Each member played with passion and mastery, and the vocalist wowed the crowd with his charisma and talent. The atmosphere was electric, and we all sang and danced in unison.

Personally, I felt euphoric throughout the entire show. Seeing my favorite band live was a unique experience, and each song reminded me of special moments in my life. It was certainly a night I will never forget.

Exercise 3: Imagine that you are a student who wants to apply to a university abroad. Write a cover letter addressed to the admissions department, highlighting your academic achievements, personal interests, and reasons for choosing that university.
